CITY ENGINEER MAKES A VISIT TO FLINT MINES

Sees Many Evidences Of Mound Builders Activities

HOUSE-SIZED PITS DUG

Brings Home Many Fine
Stones For Yard Decoration

City Engineer Charles M. Phillips has returned from an interesting trip into Licking and Muskingum counties, where he made some minute investigations into the flint layers and deposits found in those counties.

The hills containing these deposits are known as the Flint ridges. Along the crest of these ridges are long tiers of excavations made by the Mound Builders in prehistoric times. It seems that these quarries were the arsenals and the match factories for the tribes of the whole country in those early days before Mr. Barber had started his plant in the north central part of Ohio. Scientists have proven this by their findings in most every state in the Union. Wherever lived the Indians, there can be found pieces of the flint that was quarried in the Flint hills below Newark.

Dr. Mills of Ohio State university, formerly of this county, is one of the leading researchers into the scientific and historical possibilities of this section of the state. Last fall, while mining in one of these ancient holes, he found two skeletons of the ancient tribes that inhabited the region. These bones are now to be seen in the Ohio Historical building in Columbus. Dr. Mills spends approximately two weeks every summer in camp at the mines.

Mr. Phillips stated this morning that flint found here was the finest in the world. Its colors are wonderful, its crystallizations the most brilliant. Flint formations were made by the solidifying and crystallizing of the molten masses of sandstone that formed the bed surfaces of most of Ohio at one time in the geological history of the country. The coal formations of Licking county are found in these ridges of flint, and it is likely that they were compressed from huge peat beds at about the same period of geological history.

Mr. Phillips is gathering a collection of beautiful and interesting pieces of flint for a rock piece of landscape he is making for his yard.

DR. P. H. LARWILL OFF TO ENGLAND

Prof. Paul H. Larwill of Kenyon College, Gambier, Ohio, expects to sail on June 17 from New York, on the Cunard liner Imperator, for his voyage to England where he will spend his summer vacation. He received word yesterday that his ship sailed the 17 instead of the 19, and hence will no doubt leave Gambier a day or two earlier than was at first planned.

WOODSFIELD—Carl Bolton, aged 2, fell into a rain barrel and was drowned.

Our Sunday school will hold Children's Day exercises Sunday evening, June 20.

FREDERICKTOWN

The work of beautifying the lawns at the school grounds has been in progress for some time past. Several weeks ago the high school pupils and Supt. W. L. Davis cleaned all the stones and rubbish from the high school grounds and with the assistance of the janitor set out a large number of rose bushes, syringas, snow ball, lilac, flowering almond and other bushes, wisteria, flowering pea and other vines. The entire front, including side entrances to the front is set out with iris, chrysanthemums, gladioli, rambling roses and salvia, while day and spotted lilies, lilies of the valley and other hardy plants adorn the ends and other places about the ground and zennias sown in several beds. A fern bed has also been put on the north side. Two pedestals surmounted by electric lights have been placed at the entrance of the grounds which adds to the beauty of the grounds. Last week Wednesday the work of grading the lawns was begun and the work completed on Friday when the lawns were seeded and now the grounds present a very much improved condition. The principal part of the work was done by volunteer workers some of whom furnished teams and doubled their time. Other men some of whom were there three or more days did good work with shovel, pick and rake. The community club spent about $40 in the purchase of seed for seeding and in the work of hiring men for the grading. They also served dinner on Wednesday which was donated by different ladies of the village. Taken as a whole it is a good job done and one that every one who took part in can feel proud to think that they were the means of assisting in an improvement that meant so much.

Born on Sunday last to Charles Ackerman and wife, a son.

Mrs. A. M. Terry is visiting friends and relatives at Mansfield and Lucas this week.

B. F. Parmenter, wife and daughter Edna, drove to Columbus Wednesday when they were accompanied home by their son, Ralph, who has been attending Ohio State University, the past year.

Lorine Marple is still selling varnish for $3.50 the gallon—90c per quart—just like you pay $6.00 for elsewhere. Especially for floors.

Miss Ida Mahew of Charleston, S. C., is the guest of her cousin, Miss Ophelia Smith.

Wilbur Strong and son, Truman, drove to Mt. Sterling last week to visit his daughter, Mrs. E. E. Albright. Wilbur returned home last week while Truman remained for a more extended visit.

Miss Marion Hosack who had been attending Oberlin college is home to spend her summer vacation with her parents, F. F. Hosack and wife.

Miss Melita Hosack who has been teaching at Shelby the past year is home to spend her summer vacation with her parents, F. F. Hosack and wife. Miss Hosack has tendered her position there again next year at a handsome increase in salary, but declined to accept as she expects to go to Honolulu, Hawaiian Island, to entertain.

sage in teaching there the coming year.

Wilmot Taylor of the University of Cincinnati was the guest of his parents the past week end.

Miss Marguerie M. Marple who has been principal of the schools at Leesburg the past two years is home to spend the summer vacation with her parents, G. L. Marple and wife. Miss Marple was offered an increase of $50 per month to return to that place the coming year but owing to previous arrangements she was unable to accept and therefore resigned. She expects to leave possibly in August or September for India, where she will teach in a normal school at Godhra, which is north of Bombay. Her date of departure will depend on passport arrivals and necessary time for preparing for the journey.
